

Parmigiani Fleurier

KALPA HEBDOMADAIRE

CLASSIC

The Kalpa collection goes back to the very beginning of Parmigiani Fleurier. Its tonneau shape mirrors that of the first shaped movement for a wristwatch that Michel Parmigiani created in 1998. This PF110 calibre stands out for the exceptional eight-day power reserve, made possible by two series-mounted barrels. This same movement drives the new Kalpa Hebdomadaire, with indications of hours, minutes, small seconds at 6 o'clock, date and weekly power reserve at 12 o'clock. Oscillating at a frequency of 21,600 vph, it sits inside a hand-polished case in pink gold whose outline has been refreshed while retaining the attractive proportions of 42.30 x 32.10mm.
